Plus-Type workstation

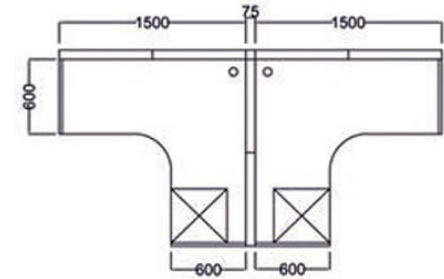

The ubiquitous workstation, we see in all corporate offices. The table top is L shaped with a curved or deep cut corner curvature. Computer friendly. Wires can either be carried at above table top or below table top level. The table top shape gives ample space for keeping papers and files. Under table storage units are optional. Provisions for pin-up board and marker board have been provided in the partition.

T-Type workstation

The common workstation known as the L shaped table. The workstations are good for corporate houses, software development parks and government offices. Pin-up and marker tiles are provided on the partition wherever required. Electrical and data points can be provided at any level in this system.
